FOR COACHES, TEACHERS, PRINCIPALS AND MANAGERS

Untitled Leader: a one-page overview

Free tools that help captains, student leaders and new team leads lead their teams well.

What it is

Untitled Leader is a free website for people who lead a team, with or without a title: team captains, student club officers, teammates who want to step up and first-time team leads at work. Each guide covers one real situation (a teammate who keeps showing up late, a team that just lost, leading former peers) and gives the exact words to say, one thing to try and questions for the team.

How it works: Say it · Try it · Talk about it

Say it

A short, word-for-word script for the conversation, with versions for work teams, sports teams and clubs.

Try it

One small action to take this week, so the guide turns into a habit instead of a pep talk.

Talk about it

Three questions for a ten-minute team discussion that ends with something the team decides.

Ten minutes a week

1. Pick one team exercise card a week at untitledleader.com/team-exercises (or use the Team Ownership Check to choose).
2. A captain, officer or team member reads the short setup aloud, the team tries one thing and talks through three questions.
3. Write down one decision the team made. Next week, check how it went and pick the next card.

What's free

- Situation guides with scripts for work teams, sports teams and student groups.
- Ten-minute team exercises: printable cards that run at the start of a practice or meeting.
- Printables: team captain application, team rules template, preseason parent handout and more.
- Self-checks: Team Ownership Check, captain readiness quiz and leadership style quiz.
- Step-by-step paths for captains, coaches and teachers, student leaders and team leads.

Good to know

- No account or sign-up is needed to use the guides, exercises or printables.
- Optional email signups are for adults 18 and older.
- Guides are written in plain language, cite their sources and follow published editorial standards (untitledleader.com/editorial-standards).
- Optional paid resource: the Team Conversation Pack ($14.95), ten printable ten-minute discussions.
